1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it includes the unnecessary title of the application, comprises two paragraphs instead of one, and includes the extraneous "Figure 2". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

3. Claims 8-21 and 23-25 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 8-21 and 23-25 have not been further treated on the merits.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-7 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, line 4, it is unclear which antecedent "comprising" refers back to. In lines 6-7, "the latter" is indefinite as to which antecedent is being referred to. In line 8, "package which comprises" is ungrammatical. In lines 9-10, "at least partial" is indefinite as to its meaning, "partial" what? In lines 10-11, the phrase "for example" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitation following the phrase is part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 1 recites the broad recitation "decontamination gas", and also recites "hydrogen vapors" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

In claim 1, line 12, "and/or" is indefinite and alternative in meaning, rendering the scope of the claim indefinite. In line 13, "this layer" is indefinite and inconsistent with "at least one layer" of line 8, and should be --each said layer--. In line 14, "it" is indefinite as to what antecedent is being intended. See also line 25. In line 16, "it" is indefinite what antecedent is being referred to, and "this position" lacks antecedent basis. In lines 16-17, "the objects contained in the package" lacks antecedent basis for being actually contained, as the antecedent infers objects, but does not locate objects in the box as now defined. In line 17, "said layer or layers" is inconsistent with line 8 and should be --said at least one layer--. In lines 24-25 and 33, "these same objects" should be --the objects--.

In claim 2, lines 2-3, "said layer or at least one of said layers are" is indefinite as to its antecedent and should be --said at least one layer is--. In lines 3-4, "attached to the covering sheet, especially by adhesive bonding or welding" is again a broader range in conjunction with a narrower range, which is indefinite

In claim 3, lines 2-3, "said layer or at least one of said layers are" is indefinite as to its antecedent and should again just be --said at least one layer is--. In lines 5-6, "this end" lacks antecedent basis. In line 7, "this box" should be --the box--.

In claim 4, lines 2 and 3, "said layers" lack antecedent basis, as "at least one layer" has been previously defined, and the same antecedent term should be substituted.

In claim 6, line 3, 'the other" indicates only one other layer, which has not been so defined. See also claim 7, line 3.

6. Applicants should review the presently withdrawn claims 8-21 and 23-25 for similar indefiniteness as described above, such as "this..." should be --the...--, and the use of "and/or" being indefinite. In claim 8, line 2, "layer or layers" is again improper and should --the at least one layer--. See also claims 9-11. In claim 8, line 4, "when they are in place in the box" contradicts the definition previously made that they are part of the box, and in line 6, "this box" should be --the box--. In claim 9, line 4, "they" and 'their" are indefinite as to which antecedent is being referred back to. Claims 12-16 contain the trademark/trade name TYVEK, as well as several others. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. Claim 18 repeatedly uses the improper broader and narrower conjunction, as do claims 23-25. Claim 18 refers to claim 1, then double recites all the structure already set forth in claim 1. In claim 18, line 12, "the latter" is indefinite. In claim 19, line 4, "this layer" lacks antecedent basis for one particular layer. Claims 23-25 should begin with "A", not "The".

7. Claims 1-7 and 22 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Each pertains to a package that comprises material and structure that render the package selectively sterilizable..
